Good Evening Colleagues,

I have recently received a copy of the plan that has been developed by the Integrated Planning team members, we met with on Wednesday.

I am very pleased with the approach and have had some conversation about goals and objectives. I think perhaps a teams meeting tonight to go through it and provide clarity to any questions may be effective. The group is asking for a response ASAP in order to begin the staffing process.

As the only person who got a day off, and knowing you have all had another brutal day, I am in your hands. I can go ahead and approve- as the plan addresses our asks very effectively, or we can meet- tonight or early tomorrow.

Members of the team have also said they are happy to ask questions the Command team may have.

Trish

Evening Trish,

Sorry to bother you with more work but please find attached a PowerPoint deck that outlines the plan we have been working on. Obviously this plan originated with your plan, which we examined, bolstered and strengthened. Hopefully you will be able to discuss with your Chief and obtain support and buy-in.

Once you have had a chance to review the deck, could you please call me and advise if you have questions or require clarity?
